Debtor Audits to Resume

The United States Trustee Program (USTP) has established procedures for independent firms to audit petitions, schedules, and other information in consumer bankruptcy cases, as authorized by the Bankruptcy Abuse Prevention and Consumer Protection Act of 2005. Pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 586(f), the USTP contracts with independent accounting firms to perform audits in designated cases. Due to budgetary constraints, in May 2016 the USTP suspended its designation of cases subject to audit. According to the USTP, it will resume designating cases for audit effective June 7, 2017.
